

SELF REGIONAL

HEALTHCARE FOUNDATION

March 25, 2020

Dear Friends:

In 1776, Thomas Paine wrote "These are the times that try men's souls." 244 years later, Paine's words ring loud and clear as we face the global COVID-19 Pandemic. This invisible enemy, and the threat it presents, is real.

Over the years, we have communicated with you about the importance of having a premier healthcare provider like Self Regional right here in our backyards. Your hospital and its entire team of healthcare professionals are on the front line in the fight against this Pandemic. Our team members are making incredible sacrifices to care for the sick and the injured. *This is what we do...*24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days every year.

During this crisis, your hospital and the courageous, dedicated people who work there, will have the greatest impact on preserving lives and health of the people in Greenwood and the Lakelands during this unprecedented crisis.

We know that the Coronavirus has taken a human and financial toll on our community, state, nation and the world and on how we live our lives. We will beat this virus. We will get through this. We came back after World War II. We came back after the attacks on September 11. We will come back after this crisis.

We invite you to stay connected with us for updates on our social media at the following sites:

www.selfregionalfoundation.org or on Facebook at Self Regional Healthcare Foundation www.selfregional.org/coronavirus or on Facebook at Self Regional Healthcare

All of us at Self Regional Healthcare stand ready to respond to the healthcare needs of our community. Your past support has been critical. Your continued and ongoing support will be vital and more important than ever before. We thank you.

Sincerely,

Laine Orcutt,
Chair
Self Regional Healthcare Foundation
Board of Trustees

Ken Coffey
Executive Director
Self Regional Healthcare Foundation